Grand May Lose Beveridge.

The patrons of the Paris Grand will learn with regret of the possibility of the management losing the services of Prof. Harry Beveridge the genial and clever pianist, who has been connected with that house for the past two seasons. Mr. Beveridge has received several flattering offers from different companies throughout the country urging him to accept engagements with them. However, it is hoped by his many friends and admirers here that he will decide to remain in Paris during the coming season. He is, without doubt, the cleverest man in his line of work ever heard here. His impromptu work with the pictures and also the vaudeville, is certainly a gift. While we regret to lose him, we can truly say that people who secure his services should consider themselves lucky.

Dear Amy:-

I've just bought me a new kitchen cabinet, and now it's just fun to get a dinner ready. I never knew what a convenience a kitchen cabinet was until I got mine.

If you haven't bought one yet, by all means, do so at once. You'll save enough from things you would waste, in just a few months, to pay for it; and it will save you hundreds of steps every day. I wouldn't take anything for mine.
Baby John is getting better.

Your old friend,

Lou.

P. S.—They have splendid kitchen cabinets; were I bought mine. I got it from
